United Way

Tocqueville Society

An inspirational resume of community service in donations, on nonprofit boards, through church and mentorship and in on-the-ground volunteering. Troy and Janet Weisses' record reads like a guiding template for philanthropic leadership that comes from the heart and gives in style.

The Tocqueville Society fosters, promotes and acknowledges the importance of voluntary community service and personal giving at an exceptional level. It is one of the most prestigious institutions for individuals passionate about devoting time, talent, and funds to create long-lasting changes by tackling our community's most serious issues.

United Way of Anchorage is pleased to present our current Tocqueville Society membership roster. We extend our deep gratitude and appreciation to all.
